

Centre for Disability in Development (CDD)

CDD works for an inclusive society for persons with disabilities in Bangladesh to promote participation, to create their access to equal opportunities and rights.

'Rights, Justice and Entitlements for Persons with Disabilities in Bangladesh (RJE-PiB) project is funded by Manusher Jonno Foundation.

Training on 'RPPD Act-2013 and Employability Skills'

February 2020

'Rights, Justice and Entitlements for Persons with Disabilities in Bangladesh' project of Centre for Disability in Development (CDD) has been working to ensure the rights, justice and entitlements of persons with disabilities residing in Bangladesh from its very inception through advocacy, sensitization, awareness raising, and training.

Participants, at the end of the training.

As a part of the project's commitment to the development of the youth with disabilities, a six-daylong training was arranged with the title, 'RPPD Act-2013 and Employability Skills for Youth with Disabilities' from February 15, 2020 to February 20, 2020 at CDD HQ. Twenty-four persons with disabilities attended the training.

Participants in a group-work session.

The main objectives of the training were to increase the knowledge level of persons with disabilities on RPPD Act-2013 and to develop their employability skills as well. Aside that, creating a database of potential job seekers from this training participants through CDD's Inclusive Job Centre (IJC).

Session on RPPD Act-2013

Participants of this training programme have been oriented on disabilities rights and protection act which came into force in 2013 in Bangladesh. Understanding of basic rights in Bangladesh's context and United Nations proclamations of human rights are two of the issues which have been discussed in plenary in the training. The 'Right to Information Act-2009' session was one of the most crucial parts of the training that aimed to enlighten the youth with disabilities upon their rightful access to different government services/opportunities which could help them unleash their true potential through availing scope and opportunities up there.